

A young girl with long brown hair

SOLD

REF: 2659

Short Description

in white dress with blue ribbon waistband
Set in gold frame with plaited hair on the reverse

Provenance: An English Private Collection

Plimer was born to a clockmaker in Wellington, Shropshire. He was apprenticed to Henry Bone the enameler, before joining his brother, Andrew, in studying drawing with Richard Cosway. He exhibited at the Royal Academy from 1787 until 1815. He exhibited twenty-six works. Many of his smaller portraits are highly regarded.

More Information

Year	circa 1800
------	------------