

A Gentleman formerly thought to be Cardinal Mazarin
(1602-1661), Continental School, circa 1640

SOLD

REF: 4521

Short Description

He wears a rich royal striped blue robe, white lawn collar secured with lace in a bow under the chin and a black skull cap, grey/light brown moustache and beard oil on copper, set in the original silver frame with pierced spiral cresting the reverse with old label inscribed
Cardinal Mazarin

More Information

Medium	Oil on copper
Literature	The Comerford Collection: Portrait Miniatures (Dublin, privately published, 2009), pp. 6, 18 (# 31)
Exhibition	Comerford Collection at the Irish Architectural Archives in Dublin, in 2009.