
19th century portrait miniature of Queen Victoria
(1841-1841), aged 22, in white dress with blue sash,

SOLD

REF: 5142

Short Description

Queen Victoria in white dress with blue sash , 1841-1841

Freeman was born in Connecticut and largely self taught, by 19 he was supporting himself and travelled to New York as an artist. After a short stay in Montreal in 1816 he then relocated to London where he received considerable success. He painted amongst others William IV, Prince Albert, the Duchess of Leeds in 1825 and Queen Victoria in 1841 after which time he returned to United States.

This miniature was Painted from Life at Buckingham Palace, March 1841.

Provenance: Presented by the artist to Mrs. Stevenson

More Information

Year	circa 1840.
Medium	Watercolour on ivory,
Signed	Painted from Life at Buckingham Palace, March 1841
Provenance	Presented by the artist to Mrs. Stevenson
Condition	The frame tarnished