

A pretty portrait of a young Lady

SOLD

REF: 2664

Short Description

wearing a white dress and blue shawl
On enamel, set in the original gold frame

Provenance: An English Private Collection

Zincke came to London in 1706 working in Charles Boit's studio, and when Boit left for France 8 years later Zincke inherited many of his fashionable clients. He went on to become the most successful enamel painter of his era.

More Information

Year	circa 1720
------	------------