
The Officer General Vesey, after George Engleheart

£850

REF: 1695

Short Description

Major General John A Vesey of the 52nd Regiment, a close friend and Equerry to H.R.H. Edward, Duke of Kent. in gilt-mounted rectangular wood frame

John married Margaret Reynett in 1795. They had one son - the Duke of Kent's Godson - and five daughters. When John died of malaria in Sicily, in 1812, whilst in waiting on the Duke on a shooting trip, the Duke arranged for his family to live at the Pavilions in Hampton Court Palace.

Engleheart painted his portrait of Vesey in 1801

More Information

Year	late 18th Century
------	-------------------